

taking advantage of these newly opened places.

MOTHER WON'T —

(Continued From Page 1)

her talk Mrs. Turner called for passage of a Federal anti-lynch law.

Hubert Brown, president of the St. Louis branch NAACP, presid-

REV. RYCE

... Read Memorial

ed at the mass meeting here.

Other speakers on the program at Masonic Temple included Rev. John Nance, Alderman T. H. Mayberry, Rev. John Hicks, Rev. Amos Ryce, Magistrate Judge William Diuguid, Miss Martha Palmer, representing the NAACP Youth Council, and Atty. David M. Grant, a former branch president.

"This has been a melancholy meeting," Grant said. "It is no good to have these meetings unless after them you continue to think and think until you think yourselves into action."

"On the ashes of Emmett Louis Till perhaps a new day will arise for us," Grant said.

More than 4,000 East St. Louisans approved a resolution asking that congressmen in states where Negroes are denied the right to vote be unseated. The resolution was introduced by Atty. Billy Jones.

The resolution said in part:

"We appeal to our representatives and senators in Congress to introduce and help to pass legislation in the United States Congress to declare vacant the seats of all senators and representatives from states and dis-

YM Education Classes Now In Session

The Pine Street YMCA's Adult Education classes got underway this week, however, registrations are still open to men and women interested.

Heading the YMCA offerings this season is the ten-week Music Workshop under the leadership of Mrs. Wynetta Lindsay. This workshop will provide the basic keys to music reading and singing. The workshop will be held every Monday evening at the Sarah-Page Youth Center at 8 p.m.

A. R. Houston, former school principal, and a high ranking bridge player of the American Bridge Association, is the instructor for the Social Bridge Group. This group, open to men and women, will have social playing with instruction. The class meets every Tuesday evening at the Center for ten weeks at 8 p.m.

The How to Build or Buy a Home Class is designed for those interested in better housing. Fred A. Jones, local real estate dealer, president of the Mound City Broker Association, is the leader. For ten weeks the course will cover the fundamentals of real estate transactions, and on the site demonstrations. This group meets on Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock at the Sarah-Page Youth Center.

"The Book Revelations Speaks to Us" is the theme of the fall Bible Study Series, held on Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock at the Pine Street YMCA. Rev. Herbert Wernecke, professor Biblical interpreter, Eden Seminary, is the instructor.

For those planning to marry or interested in marriage, a seven-week course in "Marriage for Moderns" is held on Tuesday evenings at the Youth Center. These sessions will be filled with invaluable insight into the many sides of married life. Mrs. Marjorie P. Davis, executive director, Planned Parenthood Association, is the discussion leader.

districts where Negroes are not allowed to vote, for the reason that they are not members of Congress elected by the people of their districts or states but rather by some of the people of their states."

John Kirkpatrick, editor and publisher of the East St. Louis Crusader, presided at the rally.